[Important Announcement]

Regarding the MONR Project Token Contract Change

We regret to inform the community that some MONR tokens were stolen in a malicious attack. To protect the rights of holders and prevent significant market volatility, the team has decided to switch to a new token contract.

Security is our top priority, and the audited new token will have stronger security mechanisms.

After the new contract is deployed, we will perform a token swap for all affected users. Support for the old token will be phased out; please refrain from trading.

Please stay tuned for further official announcements regarding the airdrop and redemption process.

Thank you for your understanding and support. We will fully safeguard the interests of the community and continue to build a more secure and sustainable MONR ecosystem.

MONR TEAM